Double Glazed Units, commonly referred to as Insulated Glass Units (IGUs), consist of multiple panes of glass sealed together to form a single, energy-efficient unit. These panes are separated by a gas-filled or air-tight space, enhancing insulation and improving overall performance.

At Fire Glass UK, we offer a wide range of Insulated Glass Units (IGUs), including fire-rated IGUs specifically designed for the composite door market. Our certification to Attestation Level 1 ensures that every fire glass unit we manufacture meets the highest safety standards, giving you complete peace of mind.

We provide various options, including wired fire-rated units ideal for social housing projects, as well as clear, patterned, and other decorative glass treatments to suit your specific needs.
